BETA COLLECTION™ 0.3

We are constantly surrounded by interesting letters: signs, logos, book covers, architecture, Instagram & Pinterest… everywhere. Collection is a celebration of the beautiful, weird, expressive, and unique letters all around us. Collection will eventually feature at least 50 different versions of each letter (with no two styles ever matching) to make easy work of extremely varied typography, or for a very quick ransom note. This beta version is obviously not yet complete, but it's still full of possibilities. Future updates will have more (and more refined) glyphs, more OpenType features, & quite likely a variable version!

Collection Beta 0.3 contains exactly 1,210 glyphs. Most letters have numerous alternates – some more than others – plus basic punctuation & numbers. There is not yet the "Contextual Altern-ates" OpenType feature, but there is the "Random" feature. This will work awesomly in some apps, but not all. So for now, you may need to manually insert glyphs via a glyph palette sometimes.
